FRANKFORT.

Two marriage engagements of interest have just been announced in Frankfort, the home of the bride-elect. In each instance the date for the wedding has not been made public. Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Calhoun announced the engagement of their daughter, Sallie W. Calhoun, to Benjamin B. Fouts of Department office. The engagement of Miss Elsie Stoner to Arthur L. Doyle was announced at a party given by Mrs. John W. Rodman. Miss Stoner is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Stoner, of Louisville, and has been connected with the State Insurance Department since the early part of March. Mr. Doyle, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Doyle, of Covington, is Assistant State Auditor, and was secretary to State Auditor J. J. Craig when he was Mayor of Covington.

CATHOLIC MEETINGS.

The second national convention of the Catholic Students' Mission Crusade will complete its work tomorrow in Washington, opened yesterday. Thousands of young Catholics laymen from all parts of the nation are in attendance at the convention. The organization, which is now the official mission and society for the promotion of missionary interest among the students in Catholic institutions of higher learning, has had a rapid growth during the past year. The call for the convention shows that the organization now has ninety active units, with a membership of over 7,000 students. An effort is being made to organize the students of every institution of higher learning of the entire church.

The annual convention of the International Federation of Catholic Alumnae will be held in Boston, August 8 to 12. The discussions of the gathering will largely center about the general theme of the part Catholics have had in the making of the American nation. Indiana and Ohio will be present at the convention. Other important Catholic gatherings during the next few weeks are as follows: National Conference of Catholic Charities, Washington, September 15 to 17; Catholic Hierarchy of the United States, Washington, September 22 and 23; Society of the Divine Word, Philadelphia, September 25.

REPORT UPHOLDS STRIKE.

The report of the steel strike made by the Interchurch World Movement declares that the great strike of last fall and winter was an orthodox trade union strike and not a Bolshevik conspiracy, that it was justified by the conditions of the workers in the iron and steel industry and that unless those conditions become much better, "another strike must come." The investigation found that the United States Steel Corporation dominated the iron and steel industry and determined the conditions of those working in it. They learned that one-half of the workers had a twelve-hour day and that half of these in turn worked seven days a week. They learned also that the average work day is longer now than in 1910 or 1914 and much longer than that of the steel workers in Great Britain. They found that the reasons advanced by the employers for the twelve-hour day had no adequate basis in fact. The wages of one-third of the steel workers were learned to be below the level set by Government experts as the minimum of bare subsistence.

while the wages of nearly three-fourths of them were less than enough to purchase what those same experts call "the American standard of living."

INTO ETERNAL REST.

Dennis R. McCarthy, aged seventy-eight and an active and respected resident of Louisville since he left Ireland as a youth, passed peacefully into eternal rest early Saturday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. James A. McGill, 1718 Rosewood avenue. For half a century he was associated with the Muldoon Monument Company, and his work as a marble cutter extended throughout the South and West. Following an attack of hardening of the arteries he retired from business pursuits six years ago and for the past four years has been an invalid. Mr. McCarthy was always interested in Irish society affairs and his native country, and all his life had been an earnest worker in the Cathedral Conference of the St. Vincent de Paul Society, ready at all times to bring relief and assistance to the unfortunate poor. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Mary M. McCarthy; a son, William J. McCarthy, and his daughter, Mrs. McGill. Funeral services were conducted at the Cathedral Monday morning, Rev. Father Rock celebrating requiem high mass, and in the shadows of the monument he had cut and erected on the family lot in St. Louis cemetery the body was laid to rest to await the day of a glorious resurrection.

BUYS NEW HOME.

The Visitation Home has purchased property on South Fourth street to be used as new quarters at a consideration of $40,000. It was learned Thursday. The property is in two pieces, one a rooming house at 951 South Fourth street, owned by the Consolidated Realty Company. The other is the three-story stone residence of C. W. Cheeser, 957 South Fourth street. Each lot is 65 x 200 feet, and is considered very desirable property. The present location of the Visitation Home is 515 West Walnut street, which will be sold as soon as the necessary alterations can be made on the newly acquired property. It has not been decided when the move will be made, it was said at the home this morning. The transaction was handled for the Visitation Home by the Fidelity & Columbia Trust Company.

GIRLS' COLLEGE OPENS.

The first women's college in Louisville will be opened in the autumn by the Sisters of Charity of Nazareth, according to announcement just made. Only first year courses will be offered in 1920; more advanced work will be added each succeeding year leading to the Bachelor of Arts degree, the first of which will be conferred in June, 1924. In addition to the regular course, the college will offer special classes to students not candidates for a degree. The college building at 851 South Fourth street is being equipped for college work. An effort is being made to combine student and social life with no detriment to either. Members of the teaching staff have done post-graduate work or have specialized at leading universities. This will be an appreciated addition to Louisville's educational institutions.

Miss Mary O'Connor entertained with a happy evening party at her home in honor of Miss Catherine Furlong and Mary Margaret Furlong, of Lexington, Ky. Those present were Misses, Mary Murphy, Allene Allister, Loretta McHugh, Catherine Welsh, Evelyn Glenn, Catherine Furlong, Mary M. Furlong, Agnes Munn, Mary O'Connor, Mavis Russell, Lee, Jimmie Spellman, Ray Glenn, Harry Klein, Pete Wray, Lawrence Silberg, Hubert O'Connor, John O'Connor, Russell Glenn, John Rapp.

OLD, ALONE, ILL.

Her working days were almost over and so she put in appearance one day at the office of Red Cross Home Service, 630 Fourth street, recently moved from 215 East Walnut street. The worker who interviewed the aged woman learned from her of a legacy of $600 which legal technicalities prevented her from receiving. A lawyer, of the Red Cross Home Service volunteer workers obtained the legacy for this client. The amount enabled her to enter an old folks home which offers security to her remaining days.

PEWEE VALLEY PICNIC.

St. Aloysius church, of Pewee Valley will hold its annual picnic on the church grounds Tuesday afternoon and evening, and Rev. Father Boes and the congregation invite their friends to come and spend a pleasant afternoon and evening, with an old fashioned country meal as an added attraction.

SON BEST MAN.

Nick G. Ballard, of Chicago, and Miss Sue Hagan, of New Haven, were united in marriage at St. Catherine's church by the Rev. W. P. Hogarty. Kendrick Ballard and Miss Sue Hagan, of Louisville, were the attendants. A unique feature about the wedding was that the son was the best man at his father's wedding, this being the elder Ballard's second matrimonial venture.

DOUBLE HEADER TOMORROW.

Kansas City closes its series with the Louisville ball team this afternoon and Joe Cantillon's hustling Minneapolis team comes tomorrow for four games, a double-header tomorrow opening the series. Manager Cantillon is carrying the best club he has had in five years, and if gotten together a little earlier in the season they would have given St. Paul a brush for pennant honors. The fans in his town are giving the team good support, too, but when it comes to support Louisville will rank second to none in loyalty for a ball club. Here we have a crippled team, playing bad ball, losing game after game, and the fans have turned out by the thousands, rooting lustily and faithfully with defeat staring them in the face before a ball is pitched.

President Knobelkamp's announced intention to get rid of the Louisville club surprised many of the fans who believed that the attendance here and throughout the Association had been unusually good. We believe the suggestion of the Evening Post that a stock company is the key to the situation, and that the club must be kept here at all hazards. It is true the unjust policy of the Bingham papers may have angered the Louisville owners, who can not see why they should be singled for censure by a press that covers up the multitude of sins of the Hert-Searcy-Childton administration.

BOYS ENJOY CAMP.

Boy Scout Troop 12, of St. Cecilia's parish, and Troop 54, of Holy Cross, entrained for Camp Rogers near Milltown, Ind., making the trip in a truck, going by way of Corydon, viewing the old historic Capitol building and the old elm tree arriving at camp at 11:30 a. m., after an enjoyable and exciting ride over the rocky hills of Indiana. It was a pleasure to see the boys turned loose in the hills and valleys around the beautiful camp on the bank of Blue river, where they are provided with good tents and a fine dining room, and the best of eats. They are looked after by a capable set of instructors, managed by A. L. Benson, who devotes all of his time to their pleasure and welfare. An interesting feature of the trip for the boys was the skillful handling of the two and one-half ton A. C. E. truck over six miles of rocky hills between Corydon and Milltown by Vic Boehn, a road said to be impassable for a truck, but the truck kept going on, making the round trip, showing one hundred and fifty miles, and at no time was the hood raised or the tool box opened. The only regret of the trip was the absence of their worthy chaplain, Rev. J. D. Fallon. Those who accompanied, managed and looked after the boys and are so impressed at the gentlemanly manner in which they conducted themselves that they look forward to more enjoyable weeks of pleasure, are the following: George Craig, J. O'Connor, V. Boehn, Fred Shafer, Henry Lawler.

FONTAINE FERRY BENEFIT.

The people of the three Falls Cities should not forget the summer outing for the benefit of the Sisters of the Good Shepherd, Eighth and Madison streets, to be held at Fontaine Ferry Park on Tuesday afternoon and evening, August 17. All classes knew the great work these good Sisters are doing in this community without one cent of compensation and with no one to help them. Therefore all should rally to their assistance and make possible the continuance of this noble charity.
